This Week in Class

Important Dates
Library Day, PE shoes	Mon.
Favorite sports team shirt day	Tues.

Community Leaders are Readers Day	Fri.

In math this week, we tested on fractions and continued with multiplication practice. We also worked on multiplying and dividing multiples of 10, 100, and 1000.

In rocket math, Tony W. completed multiplication and has moved on to division! Woohoo, Tony!

In reading this week, we read "Chibi:

A true story from Japan." The key skill was fact and opinion. We also talked about adverbs and how they describe verbs. We practiced using adverbs in our writing pieces, as well.

In science, we have begun a short project on ways the earth is changed (volcanoes, earthquakes, canyon formation, and geysers). Students spent a few days researching their topic and one group practiced creating an animation illustrating their volcano.

In social studies, we are learning more about what brought people to Michigan and how they changed the environment. We discussed farmers and the logging industry.

- We're in 2nd place in the reading challenge. The 2nd graders have already met their reading goal, so they have earned their read-n-feed at the end of the month. We are very close to meeting our goal. As of noon Friday, we were at 82% of our goal. We also have quite a few students reading long chapter books worth big points, so when they quiz, we should earn many points and get even closer to our goal. Keep reading over the weekend!
- Next Tuesday is Favorite Sports Team Day. Your child is welcome to wear a shirt with a sports team logo on it. We'll have fun reading each other's shirts to figure out favorite teams!
- Friday, we'll have a guest reader come in to read to the class.
- Parents, if you would like to read to the class, just send a note or email letting me know a day and time! It would be fun to have "secret" readers come in, especially toward the end of the day. Car rider parents, this would be a great opportunity for you to surprise your child!
