

List 7: Long a vowel patterns

Dear Parents,

In word study this week, we are practicing more words that have a long a sound.

ea, eigh, initial a

At home, you can help your child practice making words that contain one of these long a patterns.

Students should study the 10 assigned pattern words below for the spelling test on Friday. On the final test, there will be 5 additional words that contain the studied patterns as well. Students are not expected to study those words ahead of time, but they will have to spell them on the test to see how well they learned the spelling pattern. Students will also have 5 words from their personal list of frequently used words. They will get these words on Monday.
